

Contact: press@democracydefenders.org or PlatkinLLP@Orchestraco.com

FACT SHEET: Why the SEC Should Investigate ALT5 Sigma Corp

In a formal complaint filed on April 9, 2026, Platkin LLP and Democracy Defenders Fund asked the SEC to investigate ALT5 Sigma Corp. Following are facts about the company and other details outlined in the complaint:

- ALT5 Sigma is a publicly traded company.
- ALT5 Sigma raised $1.5 billion and paid $750 million to World Liberty Financial, a company in which the Trump family has a controlling interest.
- In August 2025, after paying WLF $750 million, ALTS disclosed a series of serious problems that investors were not told about beforehand, including a May 2025 Rwandan court judgment finding the company's Canadian subsidiary and its former principal criminally liable for illicit enrichment and money laundering.
- ALTS's stock price fell roughly 80 percent following the WLF partnership. The company expects a net loss of $340 to $345 million for 2025.

Who stands to benefit?::

- ALTS paid $750 million to WLF, a company co-owned by President Trump and his family.
- As part of the deal, WLF investor Zach Witkoff (son of White House Envoy Steve Witkoff) became ALTS board chairman.
- Eric Trump was also appointed to the ALTS board (later removed).
- Up to $500 million of investor money may have gone directly to Trump family entities.
- Company investors are holding the bag as the company stock has lost substantial value since the trade occurred

What Platkin LLP and Democracy Defenders Fund are asking the SEC to investigate:

- Whether ALTS hid a money laundering conviction from investors before raising $1.5 billion.
- Whether ALTS violated SEC reporting rules by failing to disclose CEO and auditor departures on time.
- Whether ALTS has adequate internal controls, given its rapid turnover of auditors.
- Whether the $750 million WLF deal was really a scheme to funnel money to the Trump family and their associates.